

BEL ECHO

BEL ECHO SAUVIGNON BLANC 2014

ORGANICALLY GROWN IN THE WAIRAU VALLEY OF MARLBOROUGH

“A voluptuous expression from our clay soil with stone fruits and chalky minerality”.

“WINES FROM THE 2014 VINTAGE SHOW GREAT PHYSIOLOGICAL RIPENESS OF TANNIN AND FLAVOUR WITH SLIGHTLY LOWER ALCOHOLS.”

WHAT IS BEL ECHO?

Bel Echo, (French for Beautiful Echo) is a terroir selection of our estates less conventional soil type. We consider Bel Echo somewhat adventurous in style, representing the opposite or ‘echo’ of our more traditional Clos Henri wines.

VITICULTURE

Grown predominantly on our 2 clay blocks, this wine has more roundness and richness than Sauvignon on our river stone soils. The heavy clay soil naturally has good water retention and avoids excess vigour. Acting as a sponge, the clay holds excess water when it rains and releases it slowly to the vine when the soil is dry - this assists in a consistent and smooth grape ripening period.

WINEMAKING

The wine is fermented in stainless steel tanks to retain fruit elegance and flavour; it is then aged on fine yeast lees for six months with lees stirring. Lees stirring allows us to stabilise the wine naturally, fining the wine only once before a light filtration. Our objective is to reveal expressive aromas of tropical fruits, a chalky minerality and to get a round mouth feel, while keeping natural weight on the palate obtained from the clay.

TASTING

The 2014 vintage of Bel Echo Sauvignon has aromas of chalky minerals together with stone fruits, white flowers and a delicate note of nougat. The palate is soft and fresh revealing a delightful unctuousness and character. The wine is rounded yet crisp with good structure showing us hints of the aging potential.
